

A fluorescence microscopy image of a cell, likely a dendritic cell or macrophage, showing a complex network of processes. The cell body and processes are stained with a green fluorescent marker, while some internal structures or specific regions are stained with a red fluorescent marker. The background is dark, making the brightly stained cell stand out.

Annual Report
Medical Institute of Bioregulation
Kyushu University
Vo. 17
2002

九州大学 生体防御医学研究所 年報
(平成14年 第17号)